Local Nurse Appointed to Hospital Board

Appointment of Mrs. Richard Oudersluys as a member of the Hospital Board was announced by Mayor Nelson Bosman at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

Mrs. Oudersluys, wife of Dr. Oudersluys of Western Theological Seminary and a registered nurse in her own right, will succeed Mrs. Loren Howard whose resignation was accepted with regret by Council. Mrs. Howard, who pointed to illness in her family as the cause of her resignation, had recommended a nurse be appointed in her place.

In other business, a report from the city manager informed Council that the city is no longer eligible for federal funds under the Public Works Acceleration Act. Holland was removed from the original list of counties because the unemployment rate went down. The report indicated that the Windmill committee is considering other means of financing "Project Windmill."

Another city manager report revealed that Treasurer Alden J. Stoner has been granted sick leave for reasons of health and that Mrs. Rose St. John has been appointed to act as treasurer during his absence. Council approved the arrangement.

Another report on the possibility of turning off lights at local recreational areas during inclement weather revealed that amounts saved on power bills when lights are off would be questionable.

The Board of Public Works submitted a report advising it had accepted with regret the retirement of Harold J. Karsten, assistant superintendent of utilities, effective Dec. 31. A copy of a letter praising Karsten's contributions to the BPW was submitted with the report.

Karsten Will Retire From BPW Post

After 36 years with the Board of Public Works, Harold J. Karsten, who has served as assistant superintendent of utilities since 1956, will retire, effective Dec. 31.

Announcement of his retirement was accepted with regret by the Board of Public Works at a regular meeting Monday. Members pointed out the significant part Karsten had played in the many developments and improvements, particularly the growth of the Third St. power plant, the changes and improvements in the water system, and the progress of the sewage treatment works.

"It has been said that an institution is often the lengthened shadow of a man. The lifeblood of many men has gone into the making of the institution that is called the Board of Public Works, but no individual has cast a longer shadow in shaping this institution."

Harold J. Karsten, assistant superintendent of utilities, will retire from his post on the Board of Public Works.

Karsten started as a draftsman with the board in 1926, later became chief draftsman and then engineering statistician. He became superintendent of distribution in 1951 and assistant superintendent in 1956 under BPW Supt. Guy E. Bell.

He has been active in civic and church affairs and was president of the American Legion band for 26 years. He served as a Sunday School teacher and on the consistory in Hope Church. He has had a long record of service for Tulip Time, particularly with band reviews and variety shows. During his 36 years with the board, he worked under five superintendents and 21 board members.

A son, Harold, is a professional engineer in Cleveland, Ohio, and a second son, David, is director of theatre at Hope College. Mrs. Karsten, a faculty member at Hope College, is well known as a piano instructor.

In other business Monday, the board rejected bids as too high above estimates for laying a sewer line on 40th St. between Columbia and Lincoln Aves. and south on Lincoln to about 380 feet south of the bypass. The job also listed two crossings at the bypass on 16th St., one sewer and one water. The bids will be readvertised.

Announcement was made that the board has hired the services of a Clemminshaw appraiser to check fire insurance for the new light plant.

The Hope Church Men's Club will hold its monthly meeting next Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. with Waldo I. Stoddard, president of the Michigan National Bank of Grand Rapids, as speaker. He recently visited Russia with the Cancer Congress.

FUTURE REMAINS UNCERTAIN — The South American (right) will continue to operate in the Great Lakes in 1963 while the North American's future will be decided at a stockholders meeting Nov. 14, Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay officials said today.

Stockholders met Friday in Detroit but rejected an offer from interests in Florida to convert the ships into resort hotels in the Caribbean. The ships are presently moored at the Montello Park docks where they have been wintered for more than 45 years.

South American Will Operate; Turn Down Offer

DETROIT — Stockholders of the Georgian Bay ship line voted Friday to continue operating the cruise ship South American on the Great Lakes but to idle the ship North American in her berth in Holland, Mich.

Stockholders of the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Transportation Co., the owning firm of the line, rejected a purchase proposal by an unidentified Florida corporation which wanted to use the two ships as floating hotels at Caribbean island resorts.

A spokesman for the firm said the stockholders were "influenced by the flood of letters and telegrams received this week by former passengers who want the ships to continue sailing on the lakes."

Erwin J. Goebel, Chicago, president of the firm, a week ago had disclosed the purchase offer, calling it "very attractive."

Goebel said there were no other purchase offers. The company made a small profit in 1961 but lost money in four of the last six years.

The ships are berthed in Holland for the winter and the stockholders decision Friday means the North American will stay in the berth all year.

The South American during the sailing season follows a route from Buffalo, N.Y., to Duluth, Minn., with regular stops at Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, Munising and Houghton, Mich. The South American also makes special stops along the lakes to take business groups, mostly Chambers of Commerce, of various cities on cruises.

The North American followed a cruise route which took it to Lake Michigan ports and Georgian Bay ports on Lake Huron.

In the city of Allegan, voters turned down a charter amendment which would have increased the municipal judge's minimum salary from $1,500 to $2,500, and the maximum from $2,500 to $7,500 a year. The vote was 586 to 470.

Another amendment providing for appointment of an associate municipal judge with a salary to be set by City Council was approved, 599 to 426.

State Senator Frederic Hilbert also was favored in the county, receiving 13,223 votes to 5,813 for his Democratic opponent, Edward Byrnes.

Federal Defeats Annexation Plan

The Federal district annexation of Federal district program was defeated in its own district in Tuesday's election by a vote of 198 to 150.

Holland city voters approved annexation 5,719 to 1,731 but the remainder of Holland township rejected the proposal 1,448 to 364. The two votes brought a 2 to 1 favorable majority which did not count since the district itself rejected annexation.

The Federal annexation program was beset with complications from the beginning. The main question was the decision of the Secretary of State to schedule the election in view of an earlier proposal to incorporate the city of Van Meer which had included most of Federal district.

Opponents of Federal annexation to the city obtained an injunction in Ottawa Circuit Court to halt the election, but this injunction was ordered vacated only last week by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The high court's ruling, while authorizing the election, had stated recourse would be possible through the courts after the election.

In view of the defeat, no further recourse is expected in the courts on this particular election.

Despite the interest in Federal district, some voters missed the proposition at the top of the voting machines. A total of 348 votes were cast for annexation but 362 votes were cast for governor.

Panthers Triumph, 35-0 For 3rd Win

FENVILLE — West Ottawa's football team defeated Fennville, 35-0 here Friday night in a hotly contested game that marked the final contest between the two schools.

Fennville and West Ottawa had played for the past three years and built up a strong rivalry. The teams aren't scheduled in 1963.

West Ottawa dominated the play throughout the game as they gained a total of 315 yards to 74 for Fennville and the losers never came closer than West Ottawa's 30-yard line.

The game was played on a wet field which partially accounted for the fact that each team fumbled six times and each lost the ball three times. Three of the losers' fumbles were bad passes from center that went way over the halfback's head.

In addition to the fumbles, West Ottawa intercepted four passes and Fennville intercepted two. The play was seriously bogged down by penalties as West Ottawa lost 120 yards and Fennville 53.

After holding Fennville after the opening kickoff on their own 31, West Ottawa marched 69 yards to score in eight plays. One play was a 15-yard pass from Dave Vanden Bosch to Steve Piersma. The last play was a 30-yard reverse by Louie De Vries, who after crossing the line of scrimmage, cut back sharply and raced into paydirt. De Vries' run for extra point was short.

Early in the second quarter, Bob De Ridder intercepted a Fennville pass on West Ottawa's 34. The Panthers stayed on the ground and De Vries, George Donze and Jim Corwin made four first downs but the drive was stymied on the two-yard line.

Later in a period of five plays there were two pass interceptions, a fumble, and a punt with the Panthers ending up with the ball on the losers' 35. Donze carried the ball on a reverse, followed his blockers beautifully, and threaded his way into the end zone. Corwin ran for the extra point. The ball changed hands eight times in the second quarter.

Neither team scored in the third quarter as fumbles slowed the action.

On the last play of the third quarter, Piersma recovered a fumble on Fennville's 30-yard line. In three plays, Corwin plunged 13 yards for the score and Piersma's kick was good.

Steve Vander Lip intercepted a pass for the winners and after De Vries gained 30 yards on two plays, Corwin again scored, this time from four yards out. Piersma's kick was wide with seven minutes remaining.

After a poor pass from center, the Panthers had the ball again deep in Fennville territory. The reserve backfield moved the ball to the two-yard line before they lost it on a fumble. On the next play Dave Farabee trapped Rich Jordan in the end zone for a safety to make the score 28-0 with 17 seconds remaining in the game.

The kickoff to the winners came to Farabee on the 50. He bobbed the ball, circled back five yards, and then raced down the sidelines for the final touchdown. Piersma's kick was again good.

West Ottawa's weight advantage made the difference as the Panthers were down the Blackhaws. Max Dalman looked good at center along with linemen Bob Rozeboom and Dan Lepo.

The Panthers' regular backfield gained 277 yards. Corwin had 12-96; De Vries, 7-91 and Donze, 10-90. Dave Farabee stood out as a linebacker while Fennville's alert defensive secondary of Bill Tuleja, Bob Overhiser, Rich Jordan and Mel Souders made many tackles. Tuleja gained 19 yards in five carries to lead Fennville.

Fennville ended play with a 6-1-1 mark while the Panthers, now 3-3, play next Friday at Muskegon Orchard View.

The Rev. William F. Burd conducted the double ring ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunkel of 3910 138th Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Maris, 829 South Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Ivan Edwards sang "Because" and "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Lee de Pree who also played traditional wedding music.

The bride was attired in a gown of tissue taffeta, with a bodice of chantilly lace. The scalloped neckline was enhanced with seed pearls, while the full skirt with side panels of chantilly lace swept into a chapel train. A cabbage rose head-piece trimmed with seed pearls held her elbow-length butterfly veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations arranged in a crescent style.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Kenneth Kunkel, of Spring Lake.

Mrs. Ray Wheaton of Grand Haven was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a royal blue satin gown which featured a bell-shaped skirt with a back bow at the waistline, a chiffon bodice and a scoop neckline. A small hat with a nose-length veil completed her outfit. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white mums and pompons, tinted blue.

'Color IS Magic,' Speaker Tells Garden Club Group

"Color IS Magic," Mrs. Frank R. Richardson told members of the Holland Garden Club, the Tri-Cities Garden Club and guests from area clubs, Thursday afternoon in the Woman's Literary Club.

Opening her lecture on flower arranging by talking about colors, Mrs. Richardson showed a color wheel with all the primary, secondary and tertiary colors and how they are related to arrangements.

Mrs. Richardson asked the audience to imagine living in a world of only black, white and gray. Then she told how color is used to enhance beauty, spur appetites, encourage conversation, warm or cool surroundings, act as safety measures, help sell items and to achieve a desired mood.

In color harmony, Mrs. Richardson said there were two methods used, either contrast or analogous. Where, when and why must be asked before starting to work on a flower arrangement, the lecturer said. "Identify the item you will use and then identify the container, decide where it will be used, what the light situation is and if the arrangement will be used at dinner or other occasion."

The delightful Southern guest lecturer made several arrangements including a Japanese traditional arrangement. She used sago palms, shiny dark green leaves that could be bent to her will; ti leaves, scrophia and other unusual materials. Her designs were vertical, diagonal, parabolic (oval shaped with ends of material going into infinity) and horizontal.

On a long table in front of the stage, Mrs. Richardson had a dozen arrangements made before her lecture. These were in various color harmonies suitable for the fall season. Several were appropriate for Thanksgiving with oranges and yellows predominating.

The most unusual part of Mrs. Richardson's lecture was her way of making parts of the arrangements in her hand before assembling it in the container. She told the garden club members to enjoy flower arranging, not to make it a chore.

Mrs. Joseph W. Lang, Holland Garden Club president, introduced distinguished visitors including Mrs. John R. Hainville, state president of the Michigan Federated Garden Clubs. Mrs. William Rawlinson, president of the Tri-Cities Garden Club was co-hostess with Mrs. Lang for the day. Mrs. Paul

Three quarter-length sleeves completed the bodice and a lace panel enhanced the full skirt. A fingertip veil was held by a crown of hand made orange blossoms surrounded by pearls. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, and carried pink carnations, centered around a white orchid on a white Bible with white streamers.

Cooperative Training Group Works in Retailing Field

A total of 30 cooperative training students from Holland and West Ottawa High Schools are in the retailing field this year.

Besides working with Holland merchants, the students study retailing in school along with other subjects to learn more about their particular jobs. The purpose of the cooperative training program is to teach students to become competent employees in various occupations which fit their abilities, aptitudes, and interests, thereby enriching their formal high school program.

The co-op method of training meets the needs of the community that would otherwise be neglected. It gives the school holding power, a varied curriculum to fit the needs of the individual student, better community relations, and offers the services of experienced retailers to train these students for future full-time employment in the field of distribution.

It gives the student saleable skills and knowledge, economic independence and security, experience of working with others, and an opportunity to make a gradual transition from school to life's vocation.

Students working in retailing under the program and their firms include: Dave Almgreen, Jim Atwood, Rod Robbins, Doug Thorpe, Glenn Vande Vusse, Larry Wabeke and Keith Zuber, Meijer's Village Market; Judy Bowerman, Joanne

"OLD STUFF"

No election comes and goes without prelections from various quarters about the tremendous importance of voting. This off-year election is no exception. It is "old stuff" to the cynic. But something intrinsically true is no less so because it's been said before very often. Our failure to exercise the vote is one of the major tragedies of our times.

In the early stages of Castro's revolution, free elections were promised after the overthrow of Batista's dictatorship. Castro failed to carry through on his promises. As a result, thousands of exiled Cuban refugees in Florida and no doubt thousands more in the homeland are prepared to pay with their lives for this privilege of voting. In our country, where every qualified voter is given the golden opportunity, yes, the blood-bought privilege of securing social change by ballot rather than by bullet, many fail to do so.

In the play "Valley Forge" by Maxwell Anderson, the lines spoken by George Washington are prophetic in their insight. Washington has been present at the burial of a faithful Revolutionary soldier and exclaims to those around him: "This liberty will look easy by and by, when nobody dies to get it!" We lose through sheer neglect what our forefathers paid with their lives to win.

Perhaps it is this situation that two of our greatest leaders, Washington and Lincoln, had in mind when they said in effect that the greatest danger to our country was not that of being conquered from without but of disintegration from within. For it is most assuredly true that democracy ceases the moment the individual person refuses to hold it as his personal responsibility.

Let's all vote today!

Man

Psalm 8:3-8;
Matthew 6:24, 28-33
By C. P. Dame

Many people do not seem to know who they are and why they are here and hence life is meaningless to them. This lesson is very good for people of that kind—especially for the young who are inclined to ask questions. The Bible has an answer.

I. God created man. Christians believe this, the communists do not. The writer of Psalm 8 was impressed by the vastness of this universe which he believed God had made.

He also thought about man's place in this universe. On the one hand he was moved by the littleness of man over against the universe and at the same time he was amazed at the greatness of man. "When I consider Thy heavens... what is man?"... and "Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels." The new version says, "little less than God."

"This universe is majestic but God gave man dominion over it. Man is the crown of God's creation. The Bible teaches that God created man in His own image—His rational and moral image and gave him the power to control the animals and nature.

Great indeed is the difference between man and the highest creatures of the animal world. Man's brain and spirit lift him above creation. Stars can shine but a baby can smile and pick up pebbles and play.

God is mindful of man. We are persons and God deals with us as persons. Man comes from God. This is the answer to the question, "Whence comes man?"

God made man perfect, sinless. After the work of creation was finished God was pleased for we read, "And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good."

How does the Christian explain man's misery even though there is still much greatness in him? This is due to man's fall. God who created man has also made his redemption possible through Jesus Christ. God creates and redeems.

II. God provides for man. The worldly things and God both make a totalitarian demand upon man—both want a complete devotion. Some people try to serve God a bit and the worldly things somewhat also.

Many people try to mix things which can't be mixed. Jesus said, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon"—it is either the one or the other. The person who lives for things does not live for God and fails to answer to God's purpose in life. We all make a choice.

In the days of Jesus many people worried about food and clothes. Nature teaches that God provides. We are not troubled about not having enough food and clothes but many people worry because they can't keep up with the Joneses, and because they can't get all the luxuries of life.

Ours is the problem of selection—what to wear, what to drink and what to eat—we have an abundance. Jesus told His disciples not to be anxious about life's things, but to seek first "the kingdom of God, and His righteousness" and He promised that "all these things shall be added"—which some church members do not believe for they slave and spend and worry. In an age of anxiety, Christians should trust and hand over life's problems to the Lord and leave them there.

First League Win for Dutch In Two Years

Rolling to a 30-6 victory with touchdowns in every quarter, Hope College's football team snapped a two-year MIAA win famine here Saturday with a victory over Alma before 2,000 Mom and Dad's Day fans in Riverview Park.

It was Hope's first league victory in nine starts and gives the Flying Dutchmen a 1-3 mark this season. The winless Scots are now 0-5 in the MIAA and 0-7 overall while Hope is 3-5.

Hope amassed 436 yards for its most single-game yardage in two seasons with 296 yards rushing and 146 passing. Senior quarterback Don Mitchell sparked the passing game with three touchdown aeries while freshman Bill Keur led the running game with two touchdowns and 124 yards in 13 carries.

Mitchell's first touchdown pass covered 25 yards to senior end Jon Schoon with 10:04 left in the first quarter while his second was to freshmen end Bull Hultgren for 23 yards with 8:49 to play in the opening period.

Schoon caught a 37-yard pass just prior to the touchdown pass as Hope drove 78 yards in six plays the first time they got the ball.

Freshman Terry Carlson recovered an Alma fumble on the 23 on Alma's second play after the kickoff. Mitchell's touchdown pass followed.

With 35 seconds left in the game Mitchell threw a nine-yard pass to Capt. Jim Bultman for Hope's final tally. It was Bultman's first touchdown in four years of competition.

Keur's touchdowns came on off tackle slants in the second and third periods. His first came at 11:21 of the second period on a 30-yard run to climax a 66-yard six-play drive.

His other touchdown was for 11 yards with 12:09 to go in the third quarter on a six-play 70-yard drive that started with the second half kickoff which Keur grabbed on the nine and returned to the 30. A 16-yard Mitchell to Keur pass and a 13-yarder from Mitchell to Schoon aided the drive.

After returning the kickoff to the Scots' 40, Alma climaxed a nine-play 60-yard drive for its lone touchdown with 8:14 left in the third quarter.

Van Mulligan plunged the last two yards. The drive was helped by a 15-yard Hope penalty, a 10-yard Mike Knowlton to Mulligan pass and a 13-yard rollout by Knowlton, Delton sophomore.

Hope missed all of its extra point attempts and the Scots also failed.

Senior fullback Paul Hyink, completing his home career, picked up 91 yards in 18 carries. Schoon grabbed five passes for 87 yards and intercepted an Alma aerial. Sophomore Rog Abel intercepted a pass on the Alma 30 to set up Hope's final score while another senior Kurl Van Genderen intercepted another pass on the Dutch 10 in the first period.

Area Churches Studying Need For Counseling

Representatives from 22 area churches heard the Rev. John Pelon of the Christian Counseling Service review the work of this organization at a meeting in Trinity Reformed Church Tuesday evening.

The meeting was the second in a series arranged by the counseling service committee of Trinity Church to interest all the churches in the Holland-Zeeland area in the service. Experience during the past eight months of part time operation has shown a definite need for this service on a greatly expanded basis. In order to accomplish this the committee is seeking the support of all area churches.

In his report, Rev. Pelon stated that in the past seven months he has worked with 169 different people who have had a variety of problems which required guidance. Most of the problems are of a marital nature.

It is the hope of the committee that a governing board chosen from a cross section of all supporting community churches will soon be selected to take over the control of the service and put it on a full time basis.

When placed under full time operation, the work can be expanded to include preventive as well as corrective measures. The present limited operation of three evenings a week have already proven inadequate, the office schedules are filled for as many as six weeks in advance.

Present at the meeting were Garry Alderink, William Ash, Ken Penneman, Capt. Eric Britcher, Clarence Brower, Gerald Den Bleyker, Gerrit De Vries, Martin De Vries, Lloyd Gunther, the Rev. Raymond Graves, Dr. Walter Hoeksema, Albert Hofman, Raymond Holwerda, Mrs. Robert Horner, John Jipping, Harry Kalmink, Robert King, Clarence Kleis, Harvey Laman, Edward Langejans, Eli Nykamp, Oscar Oldebekking, John Raak, Arthur Schipper, Walter Seidelman, Merle Slotman, Lester Sprick, Raymond Souter, John Stephenson, Harry York, Lawrence Wade, Mrs. Vivian Wise.

Members of the Trinity Reformed Church Committee for the Christian Counseling Service are Tom Vander Kuy, chairman, Jacob Van Hoff, John H. Van Dyke and Rev. Pelon, ex-officio.

The third meeting is scheduled for late in November when further consideration will be given to expanding the service.

Allegan Mulls Disaster Plan

ALLEGAN—City Manager Kenneth Bollinger has been appointed to prepare and direct a city-wide disaster plan, according to Mayor Richard Haskins.

The announcement followed a special city council meeting with Bollinger and former county civil defense director David Weston on Thursday.

The program as outlined by the council also calls for surveying all municipal and private facilities in the city which might be needed in case of disaster. The survey will include an evaluation of the community's ability to feed and clothe disaster victims.

Bollinger also has been directed to check into the disaster warning plan—a pyramiding telephone calling system—established several years ago and bring it up to date.

Haskins said an auxiliary personnel pool to provide trained help for police, fire and other municipal departments in case of a disaster also would be established under the plan.

Golden Curtain Quartet Appearing Here Friday

Promising Soloists to Sing in Civic Center

The distinguished Golden Curtain Quartet, named for the famous Metropolitan Opera House gold curtain, will appear in concert in Civic Center at 8:15 p.m. Friday as the second attraction of the current series of the Holland Community Concert Association.

In the quartet are coloratura soprano Luisa de Sett, mezzo-soprano Marcia Baldwin, tenor Robert Moulson and baritone Armand McLane. These young artists already have attained the first milestone along the way to top operatic careers since all are winners or finalists in the highly competitive Metropolitan auditions held annually. These auditions screen the finest vocal and histrionic talent available throughout the 50 states. Prize winners receive not only money but invaluable opportunities for further study, observation and the best possible working conditions.

Past members of the Golden Curtain Quartet have gone on to become valued members of the Metropolitan roster and have begun international careers in opera, concert, television and radio.

Producer-director and creator of the Golden Curtain Quartet is Kurt Adler, renowned conductor of the Metropolitan Opera.

Coloratura Luisa de Sett, winner of the Ford Foundation Opera Program, made her debut in Spoleto, Italy, in 1959 in "The Barber of Seville." Her United States debut came with the New Orleans Opera Association as Gilda in Rigoletto in April of 1960 and a few months later she sang this role in Caracas, Venezuela. Possessor of a voice of crystalline purity, her youthful charm and attractive stage presence lend distinction to every performer.

Mezzo Soprano Marcia Baldwin, also winner of the recent Ford Opera Program, came to the finals of the Metropolitan auditions after a Carnegie Hall debut, recitals in various cities in the United States, soloist with the Baltimore Symphony, NBC Opera production of Boris Godunov, and other operatic activity.

Robert Moulson, third winner of the Ford Foundation Opera Program, was born in Atlanta, Ga., and his fine tenor voice reflects some of the warmth of the southland. He studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and spent a year in Milan, Italy, through the William Sullivan Musical Foundation. He appeared in Boston in the premiere of the American Drama Festival's "Turn of the Screw."

Baritone Armand McLane acquired most of his basic training while on a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force. He has appeared in a variety of top operatic roles for the baritone repertoire, having recently completed a midwest tour of six weeks in Così Fan Tutte.

Chinese Editor Views Election

By Chang Tung
Election day in Holland brought the most beautiful day, the first sunshine I have seen for two weeks.

I visited Lincoln School where John Kempker explained to me about the procedure a voter has to go through.

I am very much impressed by the automatic machine because it is really amazing to know that you can run a democratic system simply by pushing some levers.

The fact that automatic machine is used in more than three-fifths of the total precincts in the State of Michigan shows how far the State has developed; and to find that the machine is used in Holland, a small city of about 30,000 population is just another surprising fact, like those modern facilities I have seen in the Sentinel and those ultra modern libraries and schools I have visited here, which I never expected before I came here.

Holland, as I was told, is a conservative city in many respects. But I can hardly feel that during my stay because most of the people I have met here are talking about changes they expect to get through the election. I am sure that many will not have the results they wanted from pushing their levers, but the changes that will help their society to grow will come about anyway.

While watching the confident-looking voters pull the curtain, I felt the urge within me: If I could also push those levers to have my own choice of people to run my country, too. I know democracy does not come overnight. The historical, social, and educational factors behind the people who push those levers count more than the machine itself; because without such factors, we are not sure what we want or whether the people we selected have the same sense of responsibility towards the society.

But I hope the machine can be introduced to countries where balloting is practiced for the first time in their history because the machine is 100 per cent fool-proof, and so it can give better protection to the voting right of the people. When machines work for the benefits of the people like what I have seen in the United States of America, democracy grows.

Coming out from the Lincoln School, I saw the school children enjoying their playtime between classes. Someday they are going to push those levers, too, and from the sunshine reflected on their smiling little faces, I see brighter day the whole world is going to have.

Viet Nam Struggle Told At Century Club Meeting

The prospect of continuing war in Viet Nam which will constantly intensify, was the grim prediction presented to Century Club members and guests Monday evening in the Dykhuizen home on South Shore Drive.

Dr. Wesley R. Fiesel, professor of political science at Michigan State University, spoke on the subject "The Struggle for Viet Nam." He traced the history of this country, formerly almost unheard of, and now in the news daily, from its 900 years of independence to its take-over by the French in mid-19th Century, to the war in Indo China in progress for eight years which took untold number of lives including 100,000 French soldiers and as many officers in the eight years as the French Military Academy was able to produce in that time. This led to the Geneva Conference which on July 20, 1954 produced a truce which divided the country at the 17th parallel, establishing the north for the Communists and the South for the French.

An amazing story of the work of a Prime Minister, Ngo Dinh Diem, given the job because it was expected he would fail, was unfolded by the speaker.

Faced with problems usual to a Prime Minister, this one had the added problems which arose from being one half a country, caring for 900,000 refugees from north to south in 300 days, plus the prediction that any day he would be deposed.

In eight and one half years accomplishments have been phenomenal: bandits have been destroyed, gambling houses closed, brothels closed, use of, and traffic in opium prohibited, military power of all other groups have been cleaned out, and land reform which saw 125,000 farm families come into ownership of land previously held by 1,000 landlords, without bloodshed.

Under this government literacy rate has risen from 25 to 75 per cent, republican elections have been held, a constitution has been provided by an elected constitutional assembly and a National Assembly has provided the measures for a government that is working.

When plans failed to envelop the Republic of Viet Nam in 1956, the Communists reorganized their plans to bring about the fall of the South. In mid 1958 incidents of assassinations at the rate of one killing every eight days has increased gradually to a tempo in 1959 of 60 killings per month. Last June there were 70 armed clashes every day. The prospect is only for continued intensity of the struggle. As the free world gains strength, the Communist will add strength.

The United States supports the Republic of Viet Nam with an army of 10,000 today, plus civilian advisors and $300,000 dollars a year in aid. This desperate situation in this strategic country will continue and intensify through the foreseeable future.

Miss Sakiko Kanamori, dramatic soprano, accompanied by Dr. Anthony Kookier, sang Mozart's aria from Don Giovanni, "Lover's entreaty and intensity throughout Pledge" by Richard Strauss and "Dove Song" by Douglas Moore.

Mrs. Henry Steffens, club president, introduced several distinguished guests at the meeting: Mr. Albada, Secretary for International Affairs for the Christian Nation Trade Union and currently the Netherlands delegate to the United Nations; Renze Hoeksma, a member of the State Department assigned to Iran; Chang Tung, of the U. S. Information Service in Hong Kong; and Dr. and Mrs. James D. van Putten, recently returned from Switzerland after advanced scientific study.

Dr. William Winter, vice-president, introduced new members, Dr. and Mrs. Julius A. Lubbers, to the Club.

Holland Plays Final Game in Riverview Park

Thirty years of thrills, jammed with happiness and heartbreak, ends Friday night when Holland plays its final varsity football game in Riverview Park.

Holland High has played all of its home games in Riverview Park since Oct. 8, 1932. The final game will be played against Grand Rapids Central Friday night at 8 p.m. Holland will play its varsity games next year at the new Hope College field east of Fairbanks Ave., and 11th St.

Joe Moran, Holland High athletic director, dug out the program of the dedication game. The game was an afternoon contest while prep games for about the past 20 years have been played at night. According to The Sentinel files, City Council had authorized the transfer of the covered grandstand from the fairgrounds. The fair grounds at that time was located on East 16th St., on land presently in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

The city had purchased the fair grounds land for conversion into a cemetery, the files stated. The grandstand was placed on the north side of Riverview Park, then called Riverview Stadium, at a cost of $17,000.

A large amount of the money went to the needy persons for labor. The Sentinel files reported The grandstand was listed as 210 feet long and a seating capacity of 1,350 persons.

The four-page dedication program included a picture of the grandstand and letters from the late E. E. Fell, then superintendent of schools and former Holland High principal J. J. Riemersma. Riemersma has been invited to attend the game Friday night.

Fell wrote "A community is rightly judged by its efforts to translate its material resources into moral and spiritual values. Riverview Stadium is the result of such effort. Properly conducted athletic contests contribute to the constructive direction of youthfulness, energy, promotes clean living, and provides wholesome recreation for participants and spectators."

"They are a part of education. Riverview Stadium is the realization of an ideal accomplished by splendid community cooperation, encouraged and guided by constructive and enthusiastic individual and group leadership... Riverview Park is one of Holland's educational institutions."

Riemersma called Riverview Stadium "one of the finest high school athletic fields in the state." "Riverview Stadium has been made possible through the support and hearty cooperation of the Mayor, council, stadium committee, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Public Works, City Recreation Commission, City Engineer, Park Board, the Park Superintendent and the public-spirited citizens who gave unselfishly of their time in building the field, donating trucks, furnishing the goal posts, the fence, the score board and other equipment," Riemersma said.

He reported the cost of grading, leveling and sodding the playing field was paid from the high school stadium fund made up of donations from various senior classes, received from proceeds of their senior play The Metropolitan Club of Holland also contributed to the fund.

A total of 2,500 fans turned out for the game and Holland lost 13-6. Laverne Scheerhorn blocked a punt and the ball deflected to the side where center Leon Bonnette picked it up and raced 20 yards for Holland's touchdown. Capt. Fred Japinga's extra point kick was wide.

The Holland band, directed by Eugene Heeter, and the 70-piece Kalamazoo Central band participated in pre-game and halftime activities.

Prior to the game, the bands paraded in downtown Holland ahead of 100 Holland High students dressed in Dutch costumes. Dutch western Conference officials, of which Holland and Kalamazoo were members, attended the dedications. Other conferences choirs were Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Benton Harbor and Grand Haven.
